2 of 2 review helpful Well researched and chock full o images By W Geoffrey Miller This book was obviously well planned and researched Starting off in 1829 with the evolution of the fire departament it takes the reader on a fascinating journey through 175 years of firefighting history The images presented are full of history and many times it would feel as though the reader was transplanted back in time while reading In 1829 the Humane Hose Company and the Schuylkill Hydraulians Engine Company organized in the booming town of Pottsville a mining center in Pennsylvania

s anthracite coal region Fire protection was urgently needed for this growing community New fire companies such as the Good Intent the Rough and Ready and the Good Will formed as well as junior fire companies including the Rangers and the Young America In a patriotic response to President Lincoln s call to arms About the Author Pottsville authors Michael R Glore and Michael J Kitsock combined their love of the volunteer fire service and their years of firefighting experience to narrate this fascinating account Drawing on a wealth of fire department archives they ex
