0 of 0 review helpful He really enjoyed it By Eve London I gave this as a Christmas gift He really enjoyed it The sleepy town of Assabet Village woke up very quickly when the Assabet Mills was built in 1847 Dams were constructed on the river millponds were created and large mills began producing yarn and carpets Soon the village was turning into a town with stores churches schools and government As the mill grew so did the town the population grew to 7 000 people by 1905 During good times the mill prospered but during bad times it faltered and had to re invent itse

About the Author Paul Boothroyd is the archivist for the Maynard Historical Society whose archive has contributed
