North Carolina s State Prison was typical of American prisons in the 19th century but with an important difference North Carolina put most of its inmates outside prison walls to work on road camps and prison farms for the purpose of getting useful work out of them Opened in 1870 the prison in Raleigh housed only a fraction of the prisoners Those inmates were for the most part too old too sick or too feeble to handle anything other than light institutional work d About the Author William G Hinkle PhD has published five books School Violence Careers in Criminal Justice A History of Bridewell Prison The Decisive Decade in the History of the Elmira Reformatory 18671877 and Elmira Reformatory for Arcadia Publishing
